

Ascension News: Spiritual Teachers, False Light and Dark Forces

Let me begin this topic by saying this planet has been a tough school for many thousands of years. It could also be said that this planet has not been a place of light for many thousands of years. This planet has been in quarantine, stuck in a low density for some time. To appreciate this some understanding of history is necessary. If you read any number of history books you will see they are dominated by the crimes, intrigues and wars of this world.

Over time, certain master souls have parachuted into this world, so to speak, in an attempt to shift matters and various religions have sprung up around the core teachings of these master souls. In the East, there are the teachings of the Buddha that arose within the older teachings of Hinduism. These earlier teachings arose with Krishna and others. In the West there are the teachings of Yeshua the Christ that arose within the more ancient traditions of Judaism. Every master soul had to contend with the dense energies and dark forces running this place.

These original teachings were living light codes delivered in a way that the culture of the time could, at least in part, absorb. However, due to the nature of this place these teachings of living light codes soon became surrounded in layers of misunderstanding, mistranslation, suppression and other forms of deliberate interference. Some of the original teachings survived in certain mystical groups though these were mainly sidelined or eradicated.

In this world dark forces are a hidden reality. Behind the power centres of every 3D institution there exists something that could be described as satanic, dark, and malignant. This has been called various names, cabal, deep state, illuminati. This darkness exists on the earth-plane and in the astral planes. This darkness involves humans at one level and non-humans at another.

At this time the planet is shifting, the light is on the ascendence, and this is not something that is well appreciated by those aligned with dark agendas and dark forces. In order to counter this, dark forces have adopted a strategy of false light. What is false light?

There are false light beings operating in the astral planes. Such beings have the ability to shapeshift their form and present themselves as angels, archangels guides, ascended masters, master souls, and Higher Selves. They can appear in meditation, visions and dreams. Their work involves influencing certain spiritual teachers and channels who are not as protected or as discerning as they might hope. By negatively influencing vulnerable spiritual teachers and channels they can corrupt their teachings and messages and thus block or limit the evolution of all those that follow them. These false light beings may also target individual Starseeds who carry a certain quality of light in their being and/or who have a certain destiny that these beings wish to thwart. For instance, I know someone who is very gifted channel who has stopped their spiritual work because they did not pay enough attention to energetic protection.

Please understand the main role of false light beings is to deceive, and the main role of darker beings is to disrupt, attack and take down. With darker beings they are less able to deceive since their vibration is much harder to tolerate, and so their main defence is to withdraw and hide as necessary. They will hide at least until they are able to get their hooks into someone so to speak. Dark entities could be classed as demonic, inhabiting the lower astral planes, satanic, those involved in black magic and dark ET, races such as reptilian.

It is important to understand that false light and darker entities on the astral planes can influence and affect a being to the extent they are prone to certain emotional states such anxiety, fear, terror, rage, guilt, shame and so one. They can also affect a being to the extent they are prone to certain delusional mental states such as spiritual bypassing. False light and dark entities feed on lower energies; they do not feed on light. They will attack Starseeds not to take their light but to provoke the lower energies they wish to feed on.

I have some experience with a number of beings who were and probably still are influenced by false light and darker beings. I want to mention three in particular. The first was a romantic connection. This was my introduction to false light beings. This began with a dream where an angel presided over a marriage to this woman. This dream, and other signs, encouraged this budding romance. This romance developed, eventually ended and the manner of the ending threw me into a dark night of the soul for 6-years. It was this experience that introduced me to false light beings and to the zone of dark attacking entities. During this time I was attacked almost daily by dark entities. I had little defence against this at the time and this was the first push to develop the work I am now doing. My second encounter was with a woman who lives in the UK. She is very successful in her healing work and works closely with a number of spiritual guides. I got to know this person very well and we became friendly. However, the closer I got the more her guides did not like it. One day I was subjected to a heavy psychic attack and then the whole matter of false light beings working with her was suddenly revealed. My third encounter was with a teacher who has a long-standing reputation in the spiritual/healing zone and in the corporate world. Again, I got a bit too close and wham the same thing happened.

Please note, even though false light is a problem in the spiritual community there are many teachers and channels working with a high degree of discernment and integrity.

Those teachers and channels who are being negatively influenced fall into two main camps. The first concern those teachers and channels who believe in their work, believe they are working for the light. They do not realise that their guides and angels are not what they seem. The second camp contain those who pretend to work for the light, but they are really motivated by money and power. These beings are aware of their duplicity.

Fortunately, these are in the minority though they certainly still operate within the spiritual zone.

When it comes to false light discernment is the main tool needed to avoid their deceptions. Also, with such beings protection and means of clearing these are important.

False light beings in this world and in the astral planes may seek to deceive but they can never hide their vibration. They may lie to you but their words carry a vibration, that if noticed, reveals their true nature.

In many old magical traditions, it was taught that you would ask a presenting entity in the inner planes three questions before choosing to work with them. Questions such as are you of the light, are you aligned with Christ energy, are you here to assist me with my highest good. They may tell the truth or lie, it varies. Even if they lie the vibe will always be off.

It is important to build discernment, and discernment is developed through self-reflection, self-awareness and spiritual practise. Discernment comes by becoming aware of the antics of the ego mind and working to upgrade the ego mind. The ego mind is driven by fear and anxiety. The ego mind can be insecure and impulsive. The ego mind can be controlling. The ego mind can jump to conclusions. As the connection to the Higher Self is developed then the ego mind relaxes its grip and is slowly upgraded. A mind that is aligned with the Higher Self is inwardly guided, compassionate and wise, sees reality objectively and subjectively, and can tell truth from falsehood. Having a strong connection to the Higher Mind, to the Higher Self makes deception of any kind more difficult.

Make the statement silently or out load.

I am a free sovereign being. I am meant to be free in this world and in all other worlds. My inner light shines with the brightness of a trillion stars and suns. I choose to grow through ease, joy and grace. I shake off the old to make way for the new. I am protected in all planes of existence.

Call on your Higher Self. Create a forcefield of light around you. Strengthen your connection to the crystalline core of Gaia. Strengthen your connection to the crystalline core of the sun.

Ask HS to spin rainbow light through your energy fields. Call on AA Raphael to spin emerald-green light through your mental body, clearing any gross interference therein. Call on AA Michael to cut any negative cords hooking you into any being, group or situation on the earth-plane or astral planes not in alignment with your highest destiny. Call on AA Gabriel to spin diamond white light through your emotional body, clearing any gross interference therein. Call on AA Metatron to spin white-gold above your head severing any interference in your connection to your HS. Call on AA Sandalphon to spin crystalline white light below your feet clearing any interference in your connection to the supportive light of Gaia. Call on your Higher Self to strengthen your discernment in this world and in the astral worlds. Ask your HS to give you a clear warning concerning any connection with a false light being in this world and in the astral worlds.
